SB 1383 Enforcement is Now in Effect

California's Short-lived Climate Pollutant (SLCP) Reduction Law, also known as SB 1383, aims to reduce methane emissions emitted by rotting food and organic waste in landfills by requiring businesses to subscribe to Wet (organic) service and separate organic waste from other waste streams.

In June 2026, the City of San José sent enforcement letters to non-compliant businesses. If you received a letter indicating your business was non-compliant with SB 1383, the City of San José's Solid Waste Enforcement Team will be contacting you to verify that you have taken the necessary actions to bring your business into compliance.

To learn about your business's SB 1383 compliance requirements, visit SJEnvironment.org/SB1383.
