Celebrating Plastic Free July

Plastic Free July is a global movement that empowers millions of people to reduce single-use plastics throughout July and beyond, with ideas and resources for reducing plastic waste every day and everywhere—at home, work, school, or even your local cafe. You can participate with simple actions such as swapping plastic water bottles for reusable ones, bringing your own shopping bags, and choosing unpackaged produce at supermarkets. Visit PlasticFreeJuly.org to learn more about this month-long celebration and even more ways to help create a plastic free world.

COMMUNITY Compost Success

The annual compost giveaway in Antioch was a great success. Over 110 attendees received compost, with 80 cubic yards of compost distributed to Antioch residents. Make sure to place your food scraps, landscape trimmings, and uncoated/unlined (not shiny) food-soiled paper products such as paper towels, napkins, paper plates, and pizza boxes in your green organics cart to help make compost for the next compost giveaway. Special thanks to the Contra Costa County Fairgrounds for hosting this year—visit ContraCostaFair.com to check out some of the great events they have going on throughout the year.
